NETHERLANDS ANTILLES WILL BREAK-UP

Reprint from OPDX bulletin

(It's Official - Dutch Antilles sign declaration reforming their status).
"Radio Netherlands Worldwide" reports:

"Delegations from the Dutch Antilles signed a declaration today (September 9th) in 'The Hague' today reforming the status of these five former Dutch island colonies in the Caribbean.

As of 10 October 2010, the Dutch Antilles will cease to exist as a country. Curacao and St. Maarten will become separate countries within the Kingdom of the Netherlands, while Bonaire, Saba and St. Eustatius will become special Dutch municipalities. Aruba already had a separate status. The ceremony was attended by Prince Willem-Alexander and Deputy Kingdom Relations Minister Ank Bijleveld and caretaker Prime Minister Jan Peter Balkenende.

The prime minister called the declaration 'a new chapter'. The intensive process which has taken five years is supposed to give the larger islands more autonomy." (From the RNW Web page at:

<http://www.rnw.nl/english/bulletin/dutch-antilles-sign-declaration-reforming-their-status>

So What Does This Mean For DXer? Just another step closer for new DXCC entities. Now that it is official that the Netherlands Antilles will be dissolving, "maybe" we will hear something from the DXCC desk before the date October 10th. Remember, to be added to the "DXCC List" as a "Political Entity", it must meet one or more of the following criteria:

- A) The entity is a UN Member State.
- B) The entity has been assigned a ITU callsign prefix block.
- C) The entity must be listed on either the "U.S. Department of State" or the United Nation's list of "non self-governing territories."

As we have seen in the past, it is not a new one until the DXCC says so....
